In 1880 the total amount of wages paid to manufacturing employees in Fairview, Miss., was $4,659,977.

Ten years of Protection increased it to $9,514,011.

In 1890. —New York Press.

HONEST STATES.

New York Press.—The possibilities of wildcat currency based upon state bonds may be readily inferred from the fact that during the last fifty years Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee and Virginia have repudiated their bonds to the amount of nearly $150,000,000.

BLAINE VINDICATED.

M. Halseid.—The British proposition looking to the protection of seal life shows that the whole British policy in the Behring Sea has been a scandal, and the policy of Mr. Blaine, as Secretary of State, has been vindicated. The only question then is: What was the British lawyer put about? What we ought to have done was to fire fired upon the Canadian sealers, and sunk or burned a few of them.

ALL SINCE THE DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

Philadelphia Record (Dem. and Free-trade).—There has been a severe liquidation in all forms of speculative venture, such a depression in the prices of stocks, and a difficulty in the management of safe and solvent business, and such a rude tearing up of the very foundations of credit, that the most sanguine believers in the ability of the country to cope with the troubles that beset it have taken alarm.

THAT ENGLISH SALUTE TO OLD GLORY.

Baltimore American.—Little could the most vivid imagination conceive the possibility on the first morning of the year in coming years, at the greatest celebration of the world, held in honor of the discovery of America, English guns would boom in honor of American Independence. A great moral is contained in the salute of the English soldiers at the World's Fair.

CENTER OF THE PAP INDUSTRY.

Philadelphia Inquirer.—The Democrats have suddenly discovered that the district of Columbia has an undue proportion of the places in the Department at Washington. It would be strange, indeed, if this was otherwise. Office-holding is the only business in which the Washington man can engage. Originally all of these people came from the states. Residence in Washington, in the public service, ought to be construed so as to make them citizens of the United States at large. This Democratic theory means that the faithful clerks to be disbanded to make places for Democrats from all over the country.

A STORY WITH A MORAL.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.—"We need more money," said J. W. Blake of Texas, a Chicago correspondent. "I don't mean the money which the old Georgia farmer in the early days went up to Milledgeville to see General Robert Toombs wanted. Toombs was at the time a Director in the state bank."

"Robert," says the "folks down our way" in need of more money. "General Toombs, who was often profane, replied: 'Well, how the — are they going to get it?'"

"Suppose we do stamp it," argued General Toombs, "how are you going to redeem it?"

"Exactly," said the farmer, "that was just what I was coming to. The people down our way ain't no redemption."

A FAIR-REACHING VICTORY.

New York World.—The controversy over the question of opening the World's Fair on Sunday is not been without its advantages. It has shown that a liberal spirit exists and is extending among the most enlightened churches of the country, and that bigotry and intolerance are unwelcome to the people.

Many of our most prominent Ministers of the Gospel actively advocated Sunday opening, and made it the subject of discourses in their pulpits. Among those who favored the opening as just to the workman and as affording the people the innocent and beneficial recreation which makes them love the Lord's Day and tends to improve their morals were Bishop Potter and Cardinal Gibbons.

The teachings of such men reach beyond the immediate subject of the World's Fair and spread among the churches the belief that the day of rest should be a day of sunshine and enjoyment, and not of gloom and penance.

The proposition to close the doors of the Fair found its warmest sympathizers among the most vicious classes of the city of Chicago. This ought to convince all intelligent persons that the more the healthful and harmless recreations of the people are restricted, the more will be the danger of their abandonment to dissipation and immorality.

This camp-meeting nuisance is to be opened again at High Bridge, says The Richmond Register. San Jones, of infinite signficance, is to be the talking part of the occasion, having been contracted with at the usual fee for two sermons each Saturday and Sunday. In the old time camp-meetings were undoubtedly useful institutions and much good was accomplished; but these modern San Jones days, it takes a platoon of police to keep the camp and its surroundings in order, prevent drunkenness, fighting, killing, gambling, etc.

The Business Way!

The business way to advertise is to take space in the paper, take your advertisements in making them attractive, and change them at least as often as once a month.

You may think there are seasons when you don't need to advertise.

We have never seen that time.

Use the dull seasons for looking over your stock and running off that which is becoming out of style or unsatisfactory, and giving bargains.

If you have space by the year, it costs you no more, and you can make it profitable by converting your surplus goods into money, and reinvesting the money in those things which are salable.

The "change" has struck Denver, which sold big banks and very good firm went to work. These are the "good times" that the crazy coloradoans voted for last fall. And they've got 'em, be gosh!

This Editor of The Public Ledger will please observe that the World's Fair will be closed hereafter on Sunday—Evening Bulletin.

Why? and we hasten to congratulate you on the success of your efforts. We suspected all along that, just as soon as the Managers learned of your opposition to Sunday opening, the gates would be closed.

And now you might tell your readers that hundreds of manufacturing establishments throughout the country, which have heretofore been closed on Sunday, will hereafter be closed during week days, on account of the "change" and the "good times" you howled for last fall.

FLOOR FELL.

Six Men Severely Injured, Two of Them Fatally.

A Derrick and Load of Stone at the Lexington Jail Drops.

The Structure is Badly Damaged and Will Cost a Great Deal to Have It Repaired—There is Danger of All the Prisoners Escaping.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 30.—A terrible accident, which will more than likely cost at least two men their lives, took place at the Fayette county jail here Wednesday.

A Canton (O.) firm has contracted to put in iron cells instead of those that are now in the jail, and the stone of which the present cells are made is being removed by a local firm of stone-masons. The workmen used a very heavy derrick to remove the large flat stones, and had placed the derrick on the second floor of the jail and were lifting the stone from the inside of the jail and laying them outside the wall, when the floor gave way, allowing workmen and derrick, together with the tremendous load of stone being lifted, to fall through the second floor. Six men were on the derrick, all fell through except two, they managing to jump from the falling derrick.

The men who are thought to be hurt fatally are:

John Jenkins, aged forty-four, single; Lexington; limbs all broken, breast mashed and skull crushed.

Dave Williams, colored, aged thirty-three, married; Lexington; breast crushed, both legs and one arm broken.

The following were slightly wounded: Ben Schuler, aged twenty-six; arms broken.

Rice Broderick, aged thirty-one; hand out.

Joe Wina, aged thirty-seven, slight bruise.

All are colored.

Jailer Wilkerson had placed all the prisoners in the east wing of the jail, and none of them were hurt.

The building, which is a new structure, is badly damaged, and will cost the county a great deal to have it repaired. There is considerable danger of the prisoners all escaping, since there is absolutely nothing to prevent their walling out.

Break Building Open.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Brazil's exhibit was opened Wednesday. The building, one of the most attractive among the structures erected by foreign governments, is in the form of a Greek cross, and in architecture is a pure case of French renaissance. The roof used as a promenade, upon which beautiful specimens of the flora of the republic of Brazil are tastefully arranged. The exhibit of coffee is especially fine.
